20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

Four to twelve panelists prepare written summaries and reviews. Each proposal is discussed by the entire panel and a panel summary is prepared. After careful reading of the proposals and extensive panel discussion, recommendations were given. Advice was given on the merit of special initiative proposals or applications submitted to NSF for financial support. Proposals funded were from the following programs: Advancing Informal STEM (AISL), Information Technology Experiences for Students and Teachers (ITEST), Faculty Early Career (CAREER), Discovery Research PreK-12 (DRK-12), STEM+Computing Partnerships (STEM+C), Computer Science for All (CS for All), Human-Technology Frontier (HTF) and EHR Core Research (ECR).

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

Panel membership was balanced with educators, researchers, evaluators, scientists, mathematicians, and technologists. Based on their expertise, members are chosen as advisors for agency decisions that might not be as accurately assessed without said expertise. All recommendations for panelists were approved by the Division Director who ensures consideration is given to recruiting the best panelists.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

Meetings are held in accordance with the program solicitation guidelines. All programs hold panel meetings once a year. The panels were separated into sub-panels based on discipline.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

Outside expert advice on the merit and potential of proposals is an essential component of the division's funding decisions. The value of the committee is in its diverse makeup, both academically and professionally, creating a more discerning system for weighing the merits of proposals. Discussion by panelists helps Program Directors to discern possible conflicts-of-interests or other sources of bias, calibrate the reviews, and resolve differences of opinion among the panelists. Other sources do not allow for group analysis across disciplines.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

To review proposals that included information of a proprietary or confidential nature, including technical information; financial data such as salaries; and personal information concerning individuals associated with the proposals.

Narrative Description

The NSF mission is set out in the NSF Act of 1950 authorizes and directs the Agency to initiate and support: basic scientific research and research fundamental to the engineering process; and science and engineering education programs at all levels and in all fields of science and engineering. The involvement of knowledgeable peers from outside the Foundation in the review of proposals is the keystone of NSF's proposal review system. Their judgments of the extent to which proposals address the merit review criteria are vital for informing NSF staff and influencing funding recommendations.

Cost Savings Comments

The use of panelists to review proposals for the Agency is an invaluable asset. The cost of obtaining the expertise, insight, and information received by the Division using alternative methods, such as hiring the expertise as full or part-time employees, would be extremely high.
